heart of that love. Your love with which make has the power to transform the world into a beautiful place.

I know what you're thinking. I know you've tried and failed before but I want you to know, really know, that I believe in you!

Yes, I know all of your weakness but remember I also know your gifts and your beauty. Trust me. You are far more beautiful than flawed.

When things get hard (as they will) remember that the Father and I are for you and with you in every struggle and every pain. I really meant it when I said "I am the bread of life." I promise that I will feed you when you need strength.

If you remember one thing from this letter please remember this: Remember me as loving you with all that I am,

Jesus

My Dear young Ones,

I hope you can't mind if I write you a love letter but it is what I'm most inclined to do. Let me tell you that you are on my mind constantly and that causes me to smile.

If you wonder why I've felt the urge to write to you at this time it is simply this:

I want you to know that I am still with you. It is my fondest desire to have you feel my presence in all you do. I want to help you to live more fully. Yes I said more fully!

I don't know why so many of you feel that to follow my example means to avoid "really living." You just don't understand how much I love you. Remember what I said to my disciples during our last meal together?

I reminded them of my command to love one another so that their joy might be complete. That is what I want for you in a nutshell; my love command is truly the pathway to joy. When you love the way God does, you will know that I am at the very
